

FRANK KNOX FELLOWSHIPS 2017 – 2018

HARVARD UNIVERSITY

Information for Applicants – correct as at 15 July 2016 but please read version on website

1. The President and Fellows of Harvard College have announced that Fellowships provided by Mrs Annie Reid Knox for the Frank Knox Memorial will be made available to enable students from the United Kingdom to study at Harvard University.

The value of each Fellowship is at least $29,000 plus tuition and health insurance fee per annum. This should be adequate for the expenses and support of an unmarried Fellow who, it is hoped, will secure housing in one of the university dormitories or halls. Travel grants are not awarded but in cases of severe hardship application can be made to Harvard for financial assistance towards travel costs.

Recipients who are admitted to a Harvard degree program requiring multiple years of study are guaranteed two years of Knox funding, provided they remain in good academic standing. Degree candidates in their third year and beyond are eligible to apply for additional support. Recipients who are admitted to one-year degree programs or as Special Students or Visiting Fellows will, ordinarily, be guaranteed funding for one year.

2. Frank Knox Fellows must apply for and gain admission to one of the graduate or professional schools at Harvard University. They may apply as degree or non-degree students. Non-degree status is offered to full-time Special Students or Visiting Fellows with the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences. For a list of eligible program/department affiliations for Special Students and Visiting Fellows, please consult the Programs of Study list at: http://www.gsas.harvard.edu/programs_of_study/non_degree_programs_of_study.php

Frank Knox Memorial Fellowships do not support medical research or any other research appointment.

Preference will be given to candidates pursuing full-time degree programs.

3. Candidates seeking admission to the Law School should note that the School requires students to have completed their resident university education and have graduated from their basic degree in Law by the time they would begin their studies on an advanced (Master of Laws) degree program.
4. UK-registered PhD students who will apply for a Visiting Fellowship should not have written up or submitted their PhD by the end of their year at Harvard.
5. Knox Fellowships are not awarded for postdoctoral or undergraduate study at Harvard.
6. It is absolutely vital that, in the same application season as applying for a Knox Fellowship, each candidate file an ADMISSIONS APPLICATION directly with the Graduate School of his/her choice at Harvard University; and each candidate must meet the admission requirements (including GREs) and timetable of the School concerned. Candidates are urged to begin correspondence with the particular School at the earliest possible date. Admission to a School is a prior condition of the award of a Knox Fellowship. Awards made at interview in January are therefore provisional, pending admission to the chosen School and programme in the Spring. Candidates should submit applications for admission to the appropriate School at the earliest possible time and need not wait for the deadline. This application is separate from your Frank Knox Fellowship application.

Qualifications

7. The Frank Knox Fellowships advertised in the United Kingdom are open to:

men and women who are British citizens at the time of application, normally resident in the UK, who

- i. are studying for a first or higher degree and will graduate in the academic year 2016-17; OR
- ii. are a UK-registered PhD student hoping for an additional year as a Visiting Fellow at Harvard; OR
- iii. have completed a first or higher degree and graduated most recently no earlier than 2012.

Please note that persons who graduated most recently before 2012 will not be eligible to apply.

8. No application will be considered from any student already in the United States.
9. In accordance with the Deed of Gift, special regard will be given to personal qualities. The following is an extract from the Deed:
- “Candidates will be selected on the basis of future promise of leadership. Strength of character, keen mind, a balanced judgment, and devotion to the democratic ideal will be the qualities borne in mind in making the final selection. The Frank Knox Memorial Fellowships were established in the conviction that co-operation between the British Commonwealth and the United States of America based on an informed and understanding contact of the peoples of these two great countries is an essential to international peace.”
10. Mrs Knox expressed the hope that holders of the Fellowships, after gaining knowledge and experience from study away from the United Kingdom, would return to their homes to become leaders in their chosen fields.

Applications

11. Frank Knox Fellowship applications are to be submitted online at www.frankknoxfellowships.org.uk
12. In addition to completing an online form, applicants are asked to write a short essay (which must not exceed 1,000 words) giving an account of their academic pursuits, general activities and intellectual interests, plus reasons for wishing to study in the United States and for the choice of course and institution, plus their plans for the future.
13. Applicants will be asked to give the names and professional email addresses of two referees. The first should have supervised some aspect of the applicant’s academic work at university. The second may be non-academic but should be familiar with the applicant’s performance at university and afterwards.
14. Applicants should submit a completed online application by 23.59 UK-time on Wednesday October 26th 2016. References must be submitted online by 23.59 on Wednesday November 2nd and referees will be contacted automatically once a complete application is submitted.
15. Applicants will be informed as soon as possible after the closing date whether they have been selected for interview. The interviews of shortlisted applicants will be held in London on Friday January 20th 2017 and candidates will be responsible for ensuring they attend in person if requested.
